Howard Carter

Task 1:

Read the extract below about the moment Howard Carter opened Tutankhamun's tomb for the first time.

Carter made a tiny hole in the doorway and pushed in a lighted candle.

Carnarvon waiting patiently could bear it no longer and asked, 'Can you see anything?'

'Yes,' Carter answered simply. 'Wonderful things.'

They made the hole bigger and scrambled down into what was to be called the Antechamber. By the flickering light of the candle, shadows danced on the walls showing hundreds of things; gold-covered couches in the shape of giant animals, chariots, statues of the king, caskets, vases, black shrines and one with a gold snake peeking out, an alabaster cup, bouquets of flowers, beds, chairs, boxes...

Put the emotion cards below in order from 1–5 (1 being the emotion Howard Carter might feel the most and 5 being the emotion he'd feel the least).

overwhelmed	nervous	amazed
ecstatic	relieved	curious
