To be able to write coherent sentences

Write a paragraph of information about Egyptian Pharaohs remembering to write in the past tense. You will also need to include some sentences which include coordination and subordination.

Remember only use sentences which make your writing even better, don't just put them all in!

Remember how you have set out information writing before!

1 point for every sentence written using the correct tense

2 points for each sentence using coordination (and, or, but, so)

3 points for each sentence using subordination (when, if, that, because, as)

2 points if you include ambitious topic words or descriptions!

Tally up and send in your writing and final scores!

Rough guide for amount:

Y1: 4 or 5 sentences

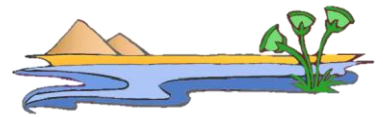

Y2: 5 or 6 sentences

Y3: 8 or 9 sentences

**remember, if you need ideas, you can look at the reading pages we have used this week in the previous lessons!*

To be able to write coherent sentences

An example piece: (my example is about Gods, not Pharaohs!)

Who were the Egyptian Gods?

Ancient Egyptians believed in and worshipped over 1000 different Gods. Most of the Gods were shown with human bodies and animal heads. There were many stories written about them. These stories were often carefully carved onto tomb or temple walls. Many Pharaohs built beautiful temples for the gods and goddesses. These temples would have large statues, gardens, memorials, and a place of worship because the gods were so important. If people wanted to worship a particular god, they would visit a temple. There were also special festivals at different times of the year when people celebrated certain gods. The supreme ruler of all of the Egyptian Gods was Ra. He was the sun god and had the head of a falcon.
